

ONE OF THESE DAYS

Words & Music by Bob Kilpatrick © 1994 all rights reserved.

Sing along with Bob Kilpatrick @ <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=eIEjo8bGSXI>

Start at minute 2:42 for the sing along

D G A B^m G A
My father is there, and I am there in my heart.

D B^m D G A
Sometimes I long to slip away and join the ones who've departed;

B^m G A } Intro
The mighty cloud of witnesses bears silent testimony;

D G A B^m G A
When I will join the ranks of them and worship Jesus only.

CHORUS

D G B^m A D G D E^m D
One of these days we'll all be home hey ho hey ho.

D G B^m A D G D E^m D
Over the hills no more to roam hey ho hey ho.

G E^m D F^{#m} G A
Our sorrows and our sadness will turn to joy and gladness.

D G B^m A D G D E^m D
One of these days we'll all be home hey ho hey ho.

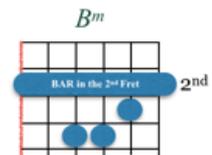

D G A B^m G A
The powers of earth, and all that glitters and glimmers,

D B^m D G A
Will darken our hearts, will weaken our hopes but we will always remember;

B^m G A
That we'll shed this thin mortality, and slip beyond the veil;

D G A B^m G A
The darkened mirror laid aside and face-to-face we will hail Him!

CHORUS

CAPO THE 3RD FRET
TO PLAY THE
CHORD PATTERNS
ON THIS SHEET.

Scripture and History

Bob Kilpatrick is a communicator based in Fair Oaks, California whose achievements and gifts are nothing short of head-spinning. He is the composer of one of the most popular worship songs of the modern age, "In My Life Lord Be Glorified", and of course "One of These Days". He is a radio presenter whose Time Out With Bob Kilpatrick was syndicated on US radio for three decades. He is a record producer who has worked with the likes of Randy Stonehill, Sara Groves, Phil Keaggy and Paul Stookey. He is an author with critically acclaimed books like The Art Of Being You. He is an internationally traveled speaker who has visited Europe, Latin America, India, Africa and Australasia. He is an ordained minister and the 3rd inductee to the Assemblies of God Hall of Honor. And he is a prolific singer / songwriter, guitarist and recording artist who down the years has, at the last count, released 28 albums!

He was born the son of Southern Baptist preacher in Louisville, Kentucky. "Some of my early memories are of the little churches he pastored in Georgia. Lively services followed by lunch under the pines of the church, with fried chicken, black-eyed peas, sweet tea & watermelon."

Bob lived one high school year with his cousins in a little town in Georgia. "Some black guys asked me to join their band covering Otis Redding, Wilson Pickett and Percy Sledge songs. We won the talent show and played the homecoming dance. Some of the white boys threatened us but we didn't care. We were having fun."

"Today, it is true that America is increasingly polarized. People focus on the 'class' warfare as being economic in nature but, in reality, we are divided less by economics and more by morals and faith. For the past few decades there has been a war in the US to remove God, and especially the Christian God, from any and all public reference. In my opinion, 'economic class warfare,' 'tolerance' and 'multiculturalism' are all covers for a deeper, spiritual battle; to eradicate the mention of Jesus Christ everywhere."

Bob in 1994

I concluded by asking Bob what spiritual lesson he's learnt over the years. His response, "I have neither the future nor the past in which to meet Jesus. I can only meet him in this present moment. He is not waiting for me elsewhere. He is here. I will not meet him later if I can't meet him now. This is, I think, what Paul meant when he said that to live is Christ. I find it in the phrases 'in him we live, and move, and have our being' and 'The kingdom of God is at hand!' If I am wondering at any moment where I might find him, I should look down. I invariably meet him at the lowest spot. The Master of all is the Servant of all. He upholds all things."

from an October 2011 interview by Tony Cummings, find much more at www.crossrhythms.co.uk/ and newhopemusic.com/